

Cleveland Clinic Quarterly

Published by

The Medical Staff of the Cleveland Clinic
CLEVELAND, OHIO

Vol. 1

OCTOBER, 1932

No. 4

CONTENTS

| | |
|---|-----|
| Encephalography in Cases of Increased Intracranial Pressure, W. James Gardner, M.D. | 3 |
| Clinical Aspects of the Cancer Problem, George Crile, M.D. | 11 |
| Jaundice in Heart Disease, A. Carlton Ernstene, M.D. | 23 |
| The Interrelation of Allergy and Otolaryngology, William V. Mullin, M.D. | 33 |
| Focal Infection as a Factor in Heart Disease, Russell L. Haden, M.D. | 39 |
| The Treatment of Carcinoma of the Cervix, Thomas E. Jones, M.D. | 49 |
| Hyperthyroidism Showing Carbohydrate Metabolism Dis- turbances; Ten Years' Study and Follow-Up of Cases, Henry J. John, M.D. | 57 |
| Carbohydrate in the Treatment of Postoperative Tetany, with Special Reference to Lactose, E. Perry McCullagh, M.D., and D. Roy McCullagh, Ph.D. | 77 |
| Edema Due to Vitamin "B" Deficiency, Maurice Snyder, M.D., Fellow in Medicine | 101 |
| Entero-Vesical Fistula, Leo B. Gaffney, M.D., Fellow in Surgery | 109 |
| Diseases of the Large Intestine, C. C. McClure, M.D. | 123 |