

Cleveland Clinic Quarterly

CONTENTS

|                                                                                                                        | Page |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| OSTEOID OSTEOMA                                                                                                        |             |
| David W. Patch, M.D., George S. Phalen, M.D.and James A. Dickson, M.D.                                     | 123         |
| THE USE OF RADIOACTIVE PHOSPHORUS IN THE DETECTIONOF INTRAOCULAR TUMORS                                            |             |
| Roscoe J. Kennedy, M.D., Otto Glasser, Ph.D.and Philip Kazdan, M.D.                                        | 133         |
| MANAGEMENT OF CONTINUOUS SPINAL ANESTHESIA FORGERIATRIC SURGERY                                                    |             |
| Carl E. Wasmuth, M.D. and Gastano Roncagli, M.D.                                                                | 141         |
| KERATOACANTHOMA: HISTOPATHOLOGIC CRITERIA FOR DIAGNOSIS                                                                |             |
| Philip Skirpan, M.D. and John R. Haserick, M.D.                                                                 | 153         |
| FIBROUS DYSPLASIA OF BONE                                                                                              |             |
| Gustavo S. Belaval, M.D. and Robert W. Schneider, M.D.                                                          | 158         |
| CONTROLLED HYPOTENSION IN THE SURGICAL TREATMENT OF CERTAINCASES OF PATENT DUCTUS ARTERIOSUS: REPORT OF FOUR CASES |             |
| Laurence K. Groves, M.D., Donald B. Effler, M.D.and F. Mason Sones, Jr., M.D.                              | 169         |
| BELL'S PALSY TREATED WITH CORTISONE: REVIEW OF LITERATURE ANDREPORT OF CASES                                       |             |
| Carl E. Cassidy, M.D. and Louis J. Karnosh, M.D.                                                                | 176         |
| REPAIR OF THE CLEFT LIP                                                                                                |             |
| Robin Anderson, M.D.                                                                                            | 180         |
| BUNTS INSTITUTE                                                                                                 |             |
| PUBLICATIONS . . . . .                                                                                                 | 187         |
| POSTGRADUATE COURSES                                                                                                   |             |
| Current Therapy in Pediatric Practice, September 29 and 30, 1954                                                       | 189         |
| Diseases of the Chest, October 27 and 28, 1954 . . . . .                                                               | 191         |
| Review Course in General Surgery, November 17 and 18, 1954 . .                                                         | 193         |
| BASIC SCIENCE COURSE . . . . .                                                                                         | 193         |

JULY, 1954

Volume 21

Number 3