

CLEVELAND CLINIC JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

CME NOTEBOOK

PRIMARY CARE UPDATE

Unstable angina: catheterization or stress tests 294

PATRICK C. WHITLOW, MD

Morphine for cancer pain:
avoiding problems, dispelling myths 295

DECLAN WALSH, MB, BCh, MSc

Acute sinusitis: impact and management 296

HOWARD L. LEVINE, MD

Osteoporosis: when to use calcitonin 297

ANGELO A. LICATA, MD, PhD

HIGHLIGHTS FROM MEDICAL GRAND ROUNDS

WILLIAM S. WILKE, MD, EDITOR

Pulmonary embolism: improving the odds 298

Early diagnosis and institution of therapy can alter the unexpected and unwarranted outcomes of PE.

MUZAFFAR AHMAD, MD

Ordering stool exams: room for improvement 299

Recommendations for the optimal use of stool exams in hospitalized patients with diarrhea.

KATHLEEN GLEASON BEAVIS, MD

SPECIAL FEATURE

Quo vadis, NIH?
The new director plots a course 305

New NIH director Bernadine P. Healy, MD, addresses the issues threatening the survival of the 100-year-old biomedical research giant.

STATE OF THE ART: INFECTIOUS DISEASE

Immunoglobulin therapy in infectious disease 309

AIDS patients, bone marrow transplant recipients, and neonates are among the beneficiaries of advances in immunoglobulin therapy.

JAMES E. PENNINGTON, MD

CONTRIBUTIONS

Transesophageal echocardiography in the critical care unit 315

Transesophageal echocardiography can provide a new acoustic window to the heart in critically ill patients, offering improved identification of cardiac abnormalities.

VICENTE E. FONT, MD

TIMOTHY P. OBARSKI, DO

ALLAN L. KLEIN, MD

JAMES C. BARTLETT, DO

JAMES J. NEMEC, MD

WILLIAM J. STEWART, MD

AND ERNESTO E. SALCEDO, MD

Continued on page 291

Continued from page 288

Atrial fibrillation and flutter with left bundle branch block aberration referred as ventricular tachycardia 325

Ventricular tachycardia, a potentially lethal arrhythmia, may be difficult to differentiate from supraventricular tachycardia with aberration. Electrophysiologic testing helps the clinician identify the origin of the arrhythmia, assess long-term prognosis, and choose appropriate therapy.

RICHARD G. TROHMAN, MD
KENNETH M. KESSLER, MD
DEBORAH WILLIAMS, MD
AND JAMES D. MALONEY, MD

CURRENT DRUG THERAPY

DONALD G. VIDT, MD
AND ALAN BAKST, PharmD, EDITORS

The continuing development of antihypertensive drugs 335

Selective alpha-1 blockers and multiple-action beta blockers hold promise for enhanced blood pressure control.

DONALD G. VIDT, MD

Alpha- and beta-blocking agents: pharmacology and properties 337

Continued investigations into the multiple effects of certain alpha and beta blockers may provide clues to more effective treatment of hypertension.

PROFESSOR B.N.C. PRICHARD

CASE REPORTS

Hepatic infarction: MRI appearance 353

Magnetic resonance imaging demonstrated the wedge-shaped nature of a right hepatic lesion more precisely than computed tomography.

MARCUS S. FIELDS, MD
AND ROBERT K. DESAI, MD

Right heart failure after chemotherapy 357

Severe right-sided ventricular dysfunction in a 49-year-old man following aggressive chemotherapy for metastatic colon carcinoma.

ANITA ZEILER ARNOLD, DO AND MEHDI RAZAVI, MD

Reversible decerebrate posturing after profound and prolonged hypoglycemia 361

A type I diabetic patient recovered fully from prolonged decerebrate rigidity associated with hypoglycemic coma.

MALCOLM M. KIRK, MD
BYRON J. HOOGWERF, MD
AND JAMES K. STOLLER, MD

BOOK REVIEWS

HERBERT P. WIEDEMANN, MD, EDITOR

Fiberoptic Airway Endoscopy in Anesthesia and Critical Care Medicine 364

ATUL C. MEHTA, MD

Drug Treatment in Cancer Pain in a Drug-oriented Society 364

DECLAN WALSH, MB, BCh, MSc

Obstructive Sleep Apnea Syndrome: Clinical Research and Treatment 365

STEPHEN G. BASHEDA, DO
JOSEPH A. GOLISH, MD

Diagnostic Imaging of the Lung 365

MOULAY A. MEZIANE, MD

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Estrogen supplements in menopause Differential diagnosis 366

of hypersensitivity vasculitis 366

Dressings for stasis ulcer 367

Aspirin and Reye's syndrome 367

DEPARTMENTS

CME Calendar 292

Information for Authors 356