INDEX

Addison's disease, treatment with desoxycorticosterone	105	Hypertension, essential. Two year results of treatment of by celiac ganglionectomy	49
Allergic patient, investigation and prolonged care of	89	Hypothyroidism, clinical aspects of	53
Amblyopia, toxic	241	Hypothyroidism, testicular deficiency due to	45
Androgens in blood and urine	95	Infection, obstructive lesions and, in the urinary tract	217
Androgens, testicular deficiency due to hypothyroidism	45	Interstitial cystitis	307
Anemia, liver and iron in treatment of	173	Interstitial cystitis, bilateral simultaneous uretersigmoid- ostomy for	181
Arrhythmia	12	Intrathoracic goiter	313
Arthritis of the cervical spine, headache caused by	261	Iodine determination	102
Auricular fibrillation	13	Iron, use of in treatment of anemia	173
Auricular flutter	14	Irradiation in treatment of cancer of the breast	109
Auricular paroxysmal tachycardia	15	Jaundice, obstructive	116
Auriculoventricular block	16	Jaundiced patient, preoperative considerations of the	275
Beside recognition of the disturbances of cardiac rhythm	12	Jaws, peripheral tumors of	207
Benign and malignant tumors, program of course in	75, 165	Kidney, decapsulation of in the course of celiac gangli- onectomy for essential hypertension	260
Brain lesions, value of perimetry in	298	Kidney pelvis, tumors of	153
Breast, cancer of, irradiation in	109	Kidney stones, recurrent	18
Breast, clinical significance of a lump in	231	Kidney, Wilms' tumor (adenomyosarcoma) of, in chil- dren; report of a case	265
Bronchiectasis, bronchoscopy in diagnosis and treatment of	140	Laboratory methods in clinical endocrinology	95
Bronchoscopy in diagnosis and treatment of bronchiectasis	140	Liver failure in obstructive jaundice	121
Burger's disease	127	Liver, use of in treatment of anemia	173
Bunt's Institute	3, 75, 83, 163, 171, 251, 323	Multiple hemorrhagic telangiectasis with special reference to gastroscopic appearance	226
Cancer of the breast, irradiation in	109	Myxedema	53
Cardiac rhythm, bedside recognition of disturbances of	12	Nonprotein nitrogen, the clinical significance of an in- creased content of in the blood	283
Carcinoma of pancreas and bile ducts	123	Obstructive jaundice, recent advances in treatment of	116
Celiac ganglionectomy. Two year results of treatment of essential hypertension by	49	Obstructive lesions and infection in the urinary tract	217
Cervical spine, arthritis of, headache caused by	261	Perimetry, value of in brain lesions	298
Cholangitis in obstructive jaundice	122	Peripheral tumors of the jaws	207
Cholechooduodenostomy	85	Peripheral vascular diseases, differential diagnosis of	127
Cholecystography, indications for duodenal drainage in rela- tion to	185	Pityriasis rosea	29
Clinical aspects of hypothyroidism	53	Premature beats	12
Clinical significance of an increased nonprotein nitrogen content of the blood	283	Preoperative considerations of the jaundiced patient	275
Clinical significance of a lump in the breast	231	Raynaud's disease	127
Coronary artery disease, treatment of	253	Recurrent renal lithiasis	18
Cretinism	55	Regional ileitis, importance of roentgen examination in diagnosis of	146
Cystitis, bilateral simultaneous uretersigmoidostomy for chronic interstitial	181	Renal pelvis, tumors of	153
Cystitis, interstitial	307	Renal lithiasis, recurrent	18
Decapsulation of the kidney in the course of celiac gangli- onectomy for essential hypertension	260	Rhabdomyosarcoma of the diaphragm	304
Desoxycorticosterone, treatment of Addison's disease with	105	Roentgen examination in diagnosis of regional ileitis	146
Diagnosis of foreign bodies in the lower air passages	279	Roentgen therapy and typhoid shock reactions in treatment of acute encephalitis	134
Diaphragm, rhabdomyosarcoma of the	304	Semen examinations	100
Diagnosis and treatment, program of course in	323	Sodium and chloride retention in Addison's disease treated with desoxycorticosterone	105
Duodenal drainage, indications for in relation to cholecys- tography	185	Spontaneous subdural hematoma	203
Encephalitis, acute, treated by roentgen therapy and typhoid shock reactions	134	Stomach, gastroscopy, its value and indications	4
Encysted subdural hematoma	201	Subdural hematoma, encysted	201
Endocrine aspects of hypertension	63	Syndactylism	72
Endocrinology, summary of some laboratory methods in	95	Telangiectasis, multiple, hemorrhagic, with special refer- ence to gastroscopic appearance	226
Essential hypertension, a definitive cure of early	199	Testicular deficiency due to hypothyroidism	45
Essential hypertension, two year results in treatment of by celiac ganglionectomy	49	Thrombo-angitis obliterans	127
Estrogens in urine	97	Toxic amblyopia	241
Fever therapy, artificial, tularemia treated with; report of a case	295	Treatment, general diagnosis and, program of course in	323
Foreign bodies, the diagnosis of, in the lower air passages	279	Tularemia, treated with artificial fever therapy; report of a case	295
Frank E. Bunt's Institute	3, 75, 83, 163, 171, 251, 323	Tumors, benign and malignant, program of course in	75, 163
Friedman test	98	Tumors, peripheral of jaws	207
Gastroscopic appearance, multiple hemorrhagic telangiec- tasis with special reference to	226	Tumors of renal pelvis	153
Gastroscopy, its value and indications	4	Typhoid shock reactions and roentgen therapy in treat- ment of acute encephalitis	134
Goiter, intrathoracic	313	Uretersigmoidostomy, bilateral simultaneous for chronic interstitial cystitis	181
Gonadotropic hormone	99	Urinary tract, obstructive lesions and infection in	217
Headache caused by arthritis of the cervical spine	261	Vaginal smears	101
Heart, bedside disturbances of cardiac rhythm	12	Ventricular paroxysmal tachycardia	16
Hematoma, encysted subdural	201	Vitamin K in jaundice	119
Hepaticoduodenostomy	85	Webbed fingers, treatment of	72
Hypertension, definitive cure of early essential	199	Wilms' tumor (adenomyosarcoma) of the kidney in chil- dren; report of a case	265
Hypertension, endocrine aspects of	63
Hypertension, essential, kidney decapsulation in the course of celiac ganglionectomy for	260
