IntraMed Scientific Solutions, a medical communications company, assisted in the development of this supplement by recruiting authors, assisting in table and figure preparation, copyediting and styling manuscripts prior to submission, and helping to coordinate author corrections. All manuscripts were written solely by the bylined physician authors, and all were peer reviewed by the Cleveland Clinic Journal of Medicine's two guest editors for this supplement.

*Dr. Palmer reported that he serves on the speakers' bureau of the Pfizer corporation. Dr. Lederman reported that he has no financial interests or affiliations that pose a potential conflict of interest with his role as co-editor of this supplement. For author conflict-of-interest disclosures, see the first page of each article.
