Guidelines or a plea for help? 337

The US Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) recently published a guideline on the use of calcium and vitamin D supplements to prevent fractures in adults. I agree with two-thirds of their recommendations.

COMMENTARY

Should healthy people take calcium and vitamin D to prevent fractures? What the US Preventive Services Task Force and others say 341

The USPSTF recently threw cold water on the use of these supplements, but the findings need to be put in context.

1-MINUTE CONSULT

Which patients may benefit from coronary artery calcification scoring? 370

Although no randomized trial has yet shown that the test improves outcomes, it is best used in asymptomatic patients at intermediate risk.

R.J. CHAUFFE AND D.E. WINCHESTER

EDITORIAL

Does coronary artery calcification scoring still have a role in practice? 374

Despite more than 2 decades of use and data from hundreds of thousands of patients, the test remains poorly understood.
